

AIT Contract Logistics for Industrial Supply Chains

Integrated logistics solutions for complex industrial operations

Industrial supply chains demand reliability, flexibility, and control. Whether you're supporting manufacturing operations, managing inbound materials, staging equipment for projects, or scaling distribution across regions, AIT Contract Logistics helps connect every part of your supply chain through one experienced partner.

Our contract logistics solutions go beyond basic warehousing or a one-size-fits-all 3PL model. We combine warehousing, inventory management, value-added services, technology integration, transportation management, and freight forwarding expertise to help industrial shippers move with greater efficiency and confidence.

Built around your operation — not ours

AIT Contract Logistics delivers tailored solutions designed around the realities of industrial supply chains — from inbound materials and production support to finished goods distribution and aftermarket service.

Our core capabilities include:

- ✓ Inbound to manufacturing support
- ✓ Warehousing and inventory management for raw materials, components, and finished goods
- ✓ Quality holds, rework, returns, and reverse logistics
- ✓ Transportation management, brokerage, and multimodal coordination
- ✓ Freight forwarding, customs clearance, and global distribution
- ✓ Implementation blueprinting to validate scope, processes, ownership, and execution

Why industrial shippers choose AIT

Operational reliability

Support consistent production and delivery timelines with logistics solutions designed to minimize disruption and keep materials moving.

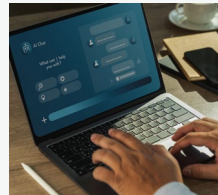

End-to-end control

Connect import, customs, warehousing, inventory management, and distribution through one integrated logistics provider.

Cost efficiency

Make use of AIT's scale, infrastructure, and global network to avoid the cost and complexity of building and managing logistics operations in-house.

Visibility and communication

Gain clearer reporting, proactive updates, and transparent exception management from a partner that keeps you informed at every step.

A growing contract logistics footprint

AIT supports contract logistics programs in key markets, with dozens of dedicated facilities around the world with more than 20 million square feet of storage space.

For industrial shippers, that means flexible access to logistics infrastructure closer to manufacturing sites, suppliers, distribution hubs, and end customers.

A partner that works like part of your team
